

The Daily Market Report

PORTLAND, April 20—Salmon fishermen have been operating freely on the Willamette and Clackamas rivers since the issuance of the temporary injunction restraining the State Fish Commission from enforcing the order keeping those streams closed until May 15, and it was reported on the street today that the Attorney-General had decided not to contest the action on the part of the fishermen and dealers to make the injunction permanent.

This means that the fishermen and dealers will continue their operations without any fear of interference on the part of the state so far as those streams are concerned. The closed season on the Columbia continues until May 1.

Dealers report fair catches on the Willamette and Clackamas the past few days, with the result that the local trade is well supplied with steelhead and Chinook salmon, which are selling at prices materially lower than when the Sacramento was the sole source of supply. Steelheads today were quoted at 8 cents a pound and Chinooks at 9.

A total of 720 cases of eggs came in from the country today, according to the Board of Trade, slightly more than the average for several days past, but the market held moderately firm at the last quotations, 22 to 24 cents. On the strength of the Northern demand and the activity of storage operators here and on the Sound dealers look for a satisfactory market during the remainder of the week. In some quarters as high as 23 cents was quoted, but the bulk of the business today was at the former range.

The poultry market held up well. Offerings were light, consisting of 59 coops of chickens, one of geese and 26 pounds of dressed steaks.

Country dressed meats were steady at yesterday's prices. The Board of Trade reported 58 hogs, 175 veals, 35 muttons and 2 cars of dressed meats in today.

Fine Strawberries in Today.

The Board of Trade reports a total of 171 crates of strawberries brought in from the South today. Some of these were from Florida and were the finest berries seen in the local market thus far this season. They sold at $2.25 a crate, while the best Los Angeles berries moved at prices around $2.

Among receipts from distant points was a small shipment of hot house tomatoes from Southern Illinois, which sold at 40 cents a pound.

Asparagus was plentiful, California, Walla Walla and Oregon-grown grass figuring in the arrivals, and the stuff generally sold at 5 to 8 cents a pound.

TO FORECAST TEMPERATURES

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 20.—A system of statistics by which Major Hersey expects to be able eventually to forecast temperatures at Milwaukee a month ahead will be established by him in the near future. Believing that the temperature of the lake has an important influence on temperature on land, the Major will take temperatures at varying depths daily and expects in time by noting changes, to be able to make longer forecasts. He expects to have the records taken by fishermen who make daily trips.
